From the President

Dear Members:

As we begin 2010 together, I am filled with a sense of excitement and possibility for the Haiku Society of America and all that can be accomplished in this coming year. The new Executive Committee has already been hard at work through almost daily e-mail correspondence, and I am pleased to outline for you some of our plans. Before doing so, however, I would like to extend some words of thanks and some words of welcome.

I thank Lenard D. Moore for his past two years of dedicated service as President of the Haiku Society of America, his commitment to travel to all four national meetings each year, and his support and advice as I begin my year as the new president. I also thank the members of the 2009 Executive Committee for their careful and continuous work on behalf of the HSA. The current Executive Committee, and the HSA as a whole, benefits from their efforts and the current committee will work diligently to build on the solid foundation they have provided.

I would like to welcome the new and returning members of the Executive Committee and the new and returning Regional Coordinators. In recent weeks, I have seen a great deal of collaboration between people leaving office and people coming into office, and I am very appreciative to those leaving office for continuing to share time and expertise as new people, myself included, get up to speed. I especially thank Dave Baldwin for staying on an additional two months to work with Angela Terry as the responsibilities of the HSA Secretary undergo changes. Let me emphasize to the 2010 Executive Committee officers and the Regional Coordinators that, while your positions require a generous donation of time and energy, and while some of your efforts will go unseen by the membership at large, your role in the HSA is critical if the HSA is to continue to pursue its mission of furthering the understanding and writing of haiku in English. If there is anything that I can do to assist you in your particular duties, please do not hesitate to ask. I look forward to a year of productive collaboration between the individual members of the Executive Committee and between the Executive Committee and the Regional Coordinators.

It is with great enthusiasm that I now outline a few of the projects on the schedule for this coming year, each designed to support the HSA mission and to improve the benefits of membership to the HSA.

The 2009 and 2010 Executive Committees have adjusted the deadlines for certain annual HSA contests. These new deadlines will better accommodate the publication schedule for Frogpond and allow the winners of particular contests to be highlighted in different issues. Specifically, I would like to mention that the in-hand deadline for the HSA Bernard Lionel Einbond Renku Contest is April 30 for this year only. In the future, the deadline will be February 28. The new deadlines for the Harold G. Henderson Awards for Haiku and the Gerald Brady Memorial Awards for Senryu are August 31.

The current Executive Committee, with extensive research help from Mike Rehling, continues to investigate the option of an online renewal system and electronic membership database because these changes will have many benefits. First of all, they will make communication between members, and communication between the Executive Committee and the general membership, much easier and more effective. They also have the potential to more equitably distribute the workload among HSA officers. In the past, the secretary spent an average of twenty volunteer hours a week on HSA business, and these new systems can streamline much of that work and reduce the number of hours required.

We also want to make the HSA more visible and more involved with other poetry and literary organizations. George Swede contributed greatly to this process last year by listing Frogpond in two important indexes: Humanities International Complete and the MLA International Bibliography. This year, the HSA became an affiliated society of the American Literature Association and will once again have a panel at the ALA’s annual conference. As this year continues, we will look for ways to partner with other associations.

We are committed to increasing support for Regional Coordinators as well. Michael Welch has already drafted a clear description of the Regional Coordinators’ responsibilities and presented it to the Executive Committee and the Regional Coordinators for feedback. He made sure to include enough flexibility that coordinators can adapt their work based on the needs of their specific regions. Michael will also serve as a resource for coordinators during the year.

Based on what I have seen in these first weeks of the year, I am certain that the above goals will be reached and that additional projects will be undertaken and completed. I would like to extend an invitation to all HSA members to follow the development of the projects I’ve described and to offer feedback including suggestions. We welcome and value your input.

Best wishes,
Ce Rosenow

From Lenard D. Moore

January 15, 2010

Dear HSA Members,

Thank you very much for providing the opportunity for me to serve as your president in 2008 and 2009. It was my pleasure to attend all of the quarterly meetings in 2008, and both meetings (Eugene, Oregon and New York City) in 2009. Johnyee Strickland’s presence at all of the meetings helped me in my tenure. I am grateful to have worked with such amazing Executive Committee members. On September 11, 2008, I wrote letters to Poets House, Poetry Society of America, and Academy of American Poets in hope of the organizations featuring haiku readings for a wider audience. In 2009, I asked Dave Russo to check into opportunities for an online membership service. I think he has distributed the information to Michael Dylan Welch. With the help of the executive committee, we have accomplished a number of goals.

On another note, it was a wonderful experience to represent the Haiku Society of America at the Haiku International Association (HIA) 20th Anniversary Symposium on November 28, 2009, in Tokyo, Japan. While in Japan, I donated copies of Frogpond to the Museum of Haiku Literature.

I appreciate all of the Regional Coordinators for their outstanding work. I also appreciate Bob Moyer and Dave Russo for working with me as we coordinated the December 2008 quarterly meeting in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Lastly, I will remember how Paul Miller assumed the (extra) duties of the newsletter editor at the end of last year. I will also remember how diligent the editors of the HSA anthologies and Frogpond worked. So far, I have sent Mt. Olive Pickle gift packages to several people, including those who have hosted me, provided rides to and from airports, coordinated quarterly meetings, and chaired nominating committees. I look forward to continued correspondence with many of you. Congratulations to Hiroaki Sato as the recipient of the 2009 Sora Award! Once again, thank you very much.

Happy New Decade,

Lenard D. Moore
The Secretary’s Final Report for 2009
By Dave Baldwin

This report is a wrap-up of the final weeks of 2009. I collected ballots through the last Saturday of November. As of that date, I had 150 ballots. I received dozens more ballots since, but they were discarded because they were too late.

Note:

The new Membership Secretary for 2010 is Angela Terry. See her note, which includes details on how to join or renew your membership with the Haiku Society of America, on page 4 of this newsletter.

I sincerely appreciate the opportunity to serve in 2009 as your secretary. I had many enjoyable e-mail conversations with members. To those of you who sent me calendars, chapbooks, stationery, and haiku along with your registrations, I thank you from the bottom of my heart. I hope 2010 will be a year of good writing for all of us!
Incoming HSA Secretary’s Report

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for electing me as HSA Secretary for 2010. It’s a big job, I know, but I’m looking forward to the challenge. I’d like to thank outgoing Secretary Dave Baldwin for working with me over the last few weeks, helping me get onboard with the data systems and responsibilities of the job. He has been a great help.

For those of you who don’t know me, I live in a suburb of Seattle and retired on January 1, 2006, after 35 years in the insurance industry. So I now have more time to write and to devote to Haiku Northwest and HSA activities, which I quite enjoy. As secretary of HSA, I know I’ll have the opportunity to work with many of you, and I’m looking forward to that aspect of the job especially.

If you need any HSA membership service, please feel free to contact me at my e-mail address of HSA-9AT@comcast.net.

And if you haven’t renewed your membership for 2010, think about doing it today. You can get a membership application on-line at www.hsa-haiku.org or by contacting me. My mailing address is:

Meetings of the HSA in 2010

Haiku Society of America meetings are held quarterly at various locations throughout the U.S. The third meeting of the year is designated the Annual Meeting. The quarterly meetings for 2010 are scheduled as follows (check the HSA web site for program details as they become available):

February 19-21, Pasadena, CA, hosted by the Southern California Haiku Study Group (organizers: Deborah P. Kolodji and Naia)

June 25-27, Seattle, WA, hosted by Haiku Northwest (organizer: Michael Dylan Welch)

September 10-12, Mineral Point, WI (organizers: Gayle Bull and Francine Banwarth)

December 4, Boston, MA (organizers: Raffael de Gruttola and others in the area)

Notes: Dues are overstated due to the majority of 2009 dues being paid in 2009, as opposed to the usual pattern of a fair percentage of dues for the upcoming year being paid prior to year end. As mentioned previously, my goal has been to build a reserve to tide the organization over during prospective future low membership (for example: I’d hate to see the quality of Frogpond suffer due to low revenues). I feel that the reserve is adequate now, and would like to thank all the folks who included something extra with their dues for the cause.

Respectfully,
Paul Miller
Treasurer
ROCHESTER AREA HAiku GROUP

Entering its sixth year, the Rochester Area Haiku Group continues to meet monthly at Barnes & Noble in Pittsford. Since our last report, two new members have joined us, John Holtz and Pam Good, making our number of “regulars” about a dozen.

Simply Haiku recently announced Pamela A. Babuscio of Rochester as their new tanka editor. We’re also pleased that Pamela received an honorable mention in The Winter Moon Awards for Haiku 2009 for this poem:

autumn melancholy—
she hand-paints
another comb

At our January meeting, Carolyn Dancy assumed responsibilities as RAHG Coordinator, following in Deanna Tiefenthal’s footsteps. After a brief business meeting, a beginner’s workshop based on Patricia Donnegan’s concept of seeing with “haiku eyes” was presented by Deanna & Carolyn. They used several haiku-writing exercises from Donnegan’s book HAIKU – Learn to express yourself by writing poetry in the Japanese tradition.

December took us to Deb Koen’s charming Craftsman-style house, where we shared homemade soups, holiday goodies, and haiku. A lighthearted time was enjoyed, even before wine was served!

In November, Jerome Cushman led an incense ceremony (Kodo), after which we played an incense game called a Kumiko. During the game, each participant “listened to” (sniffed) four samples of incense and tried to identify which scent was the same as another. This was not as easy as we’d expected, and only a few correctly named the scent! Naturally, numerous memories were evoked by the scents, which inspired writing haiku about campfires, gingerbread cookies, and even Grandma’s bedroom.

In October, Tom Painting talked about his trip to the “real India,” which had included a short visit with Angellee Deodhar of Chandigarh. His talk was complemented by dozens of digital photos showing India’s amazing diversity.

In September, we enjoyed an encore of RAHG’s presentation at Haiku North America’s 2009 Conference (Ottawa), during which Jerome Cushman, Carolyn Dancy, Deb Koen, and Deanna Tiefenthal “performed” haiku from our 2009 chapbook, Five Seasons.

—Carolyn Coit Dancy

Towpath (Mid-Atlantic)

We began 2009 by reviewing our practice of sending courtesy copies of the Towpath newsletter to former members and interested nonmembers. Member poets expressed concern about the increasing tendency of editors to consider a poem published if it has appeared in a newsletter—even a small one such as ours. Consensus was to send our newsletter to current members only. We will continue omitting round-robin and workshop haiku from our own newsletter and from the HSA report at the author’s request.

Towpath was deeply saddened by news of the death of Paul O. Williams. At our June meeting, in remembrance, we read a number of Paul’s haiku, including this one from Outside Robins Sing: Selected Haiku (Brooks Books, 1999):

the conductor raises his baton—
outside robins sing

Ellen Compton and Roberta Beary spoke about Paul’s essays on haiku, and said that haiku poets will be wise to be guided by his insightful and often gently humorous talks and writings (see Nick of Time: Essays on Haiku Aesthetics, Press Here Books, 2001). Members particularly noted Paul’s warnings about the overuse in haiku of words such as “old” and “silence”; his definition of baloney haiku (“the kind that reminds you of a TV news photo of the results of a tornado in which they’ve moved a child’s doll to the foreground and torn it a little”); and his thoughtful discussion of the dangers of omitting the indefinite and definite articles in English to make a poem seem “more Japanese.”

The August meeting happened with a smaller than usual group; many of our members were celebrating summer in other places, so it seemed appropriate that the meeting featured a discussion and appreciation of the elegantly designed A Travel-Worn Satchel (the HSA Members’ Anthology for 2009). We all took part in reading a selection of the poems, including this one written by Kristen Deming during her time in Tunis:

thronged medina—
the perfume seller’s sample brings a bee

In a Towpath workshop, someone may suggest that a subject might be expanded from haiku and better addressed in haibun. This advice can be less than helpful for newer members, so October featured a presentation on haibun—its roots in Japan and its development in the West—with some tips for working in the genre. Ellen Compton began the talk with the Haiku Society of America’s definition of haibun as it appears on the HSA web site. The talk that followed expanded on the HSA’s explanation of the definition and on material from Chapter 4, “Haiku Prose,” in The Haiku Handbook (Higginson & Harter, New York: Kodansha). Ellen emphasized the description of haibun as prose poetry. She noted that subject, tone, and prose style may vary widely as a reflection of the poet’s unique voice. To illustrate this point, both she and Roberta Beary provided copies of their own work as handouts. Ellen pointed out that in haibun, prose and haiku do not explain one another. In this context, she quoted Makoto Ueda: “It is up to the reader to grasp the meaning of the prose, and then of the haiku, and to go on to discover the undercurrents of meaning common to both.”

Now a little history. In December we were reminded that 2009 is the 15th year since Towpath’s first meeting: In the autumn of 1994, a small band of haikuin came together over luncheon at a restaurant in Washington’s Foggy Bottom—a neighborhood associated more with the State Department than with poetry. To mark each earlier 5-year milestone, we have celebrated by publishing a collection of members’ work—pocket change for 1999 and a path made by bears for 2004—and we plan to do the same for 2009. Look for a new Towpath anthology some time in 2010!

—Ellen Compton

Haiku Poets of Central Maryland

September Meeting
The Haiku Poets of Central Maryland held a meeting on Saturday, September 26, 2009, at the Timonium, MD, home of Beth Edelstein. Attending were Elizabeth Fanto and Tony Nasuta, both of Timonium; Joan Sauer, Berlin, MD; Tim Singleton, Columbia, MD; and Cathy Drinkwater Better (Walker), of Eldersburg, MD. Attending by mail or e-mail were: Pamela A. Babusci (Rochester, NY); Susan Sanchez-Barnett and Dave Barnett (Glen Burnie, MD); Joan Murphy (West Hempstead, NY); Edith Bartholomeusz (Phoenix, AZ); and Maria Steyn (Johannesburg, South Africa).

Member news: Pamela A. Babusci took Fifth Place in the 6th International Tanka Festival in Tokyo, the 2009 Competition (the ITF Tokyo Competition); and First Place in the 2009 Saigyo Awards for Tanka. Kirsty Karkow received an Honorable Mention in the 2009 Saigyo Awards for Tanka. Roberta Beary earned a First Honorable Mention in this year’s Itoen Haiku Contest, as well as The Distinguished Prize in Division One in the First Yamadera Basho Memorial Museum English Haiku Contest. Roberta has a new chapbook out, nothing left to say; and a hardcover edition of her award-winning first book, the unworn necklace, will be available soon. Edith Bartholomeusz’s first book, Into the Sun (Black Cat Press), will be released in November 2009. It contains a selection of Edith’s haiku and tanka, with illustrations by Cathy Drinkwater Better. For more information: cbetter@juno.com. The meeting concluded with a lively haiku workshop.

November Meeting
The latest bimonthly meeting of the Haiku Poets of Central Maryland took place on Saturday, November 21, 2009, at the home of Tony Nasuta. Attending were Elizabeth Fanto, Tim Singleton, Hazel Witherspoon, Karen VanOstrand, Susan Sanchez-Barnett and Dave Barnett, and Cathy Drinkwater Better. Joan Murphy, Edith Bartholomeusz, Jennie Townsend, Curtis Dunlap, and Pamela A. Babusci sent news, greetings, and poetry from afar.

We welcomed two new members in November: Karen VanOstrand, of Sykesville, MD, and Judi Hays, of Woodstock, MD.

Copies of HPCM’s 2009 poemsheet, Autumn Harvest, were distributed (and have been mailed out). It contains 29 haiku and senryu by 17 HPCM members from across the U.S. and abroad—including D.C., New York, Maine, and Arizona; India, South Africa, and Japan. For three free copies, send an SASE (or a SAE + $5USD, if outside the U.S.) to: Elizabeth Fanto, HPCM Poemsheet, 51 Gerard Avenue, Timonium, MD 21093.

Samples of Edith Bartholomeusz’s first book, Into the Sun: Selected Haiku and Tanka, were on hand. It’s a quarto-sized collection of some of Edith’s new and previously published haiku and tanka, illustrated and designed by Cathy Drinkwater Better and produced by Black Cat Press. For more information, e-mail Edith at FREDEDITH@aol.com or Cathy at cbetter@juno.com.

Tim Singleton brought copies of his poemsheet, Scattered Birdseed. He also showed us samples of beautiful ceramic “haiku tiles,” on which he and an artist friend are working. For more information, or for copies of Scattered Birdseed, e-mail: TimSingleton@comcast.net.

This isn’t technically haiku news, but Cathy Drinkwater Better’s new Sesame Street Christmas boardbooks hit stores in late November. Her three books, plus The Night Before Christmas, are wrapped in two sets of two books each. But don’t expect to see Cathy’s name on them—the publisher left it off this time... grrrr....

We listened to a few brief sound clips, courtesy of Curtis Dunlap’s Blogging Along Tobacco Road, of Scotland’s John McDonald and Curtis himself reading haiku. In a brief “editorial” on the web site, Curtis encouraged all haiku poets to take advantage of the simple, computer-interface technology out there to make CD recordings of our own haiku. He rightly points out that, at some point in the future, these recordings will be of value to readers—near or far, unknown to us or family. The web site also provides info on how to receive a copy of John’s CD.

As of 2010, HPCM dues are $10/year. We have many members outside of Central Maryland who participate by mail, e-mail, and even phone on occasion. Dues include the Dragonfly newsletter and any Dragonfly Extras sent out (by e-mail, by snail mail if you don’t have an e-mail address); free copies of the annual poemsheet; and more. Send (in U.S. funds) to: Cathy Drinkwater Better, 613 Okemo Drive, Eldersburg, MD 21784; or Elizabeth Fanto, 51 Gerard Avenue, Timonium, MD 21093.

We finished this amiable meeting with an enjoyable and enlightening... haiku workshop. The next meeting of HPCM will be held on Saturday, January 23, 2010, at the home of Elizabeth Fanto. For more information, e-mail efanto@verizon.net or cbetter@juno.com.

Georgia

Pinecone, The North Georgia Haiku Society, met at JapanFest held at Gwinnett Center in Atlanta, Georgia on September 19, 2009. Members enjoyed conversation and the sights and sounds of Japan while visiting the bonsai room, the kite-making room, and the water color-koi painting room. Those in attendance were Peggy Willis Lyles, Zhanna P. Rader, Nora Wood, and Marilyn Appl Walker.

Since Carlos Colón was unable to unveil the character of Haiku Elvis at Haiku North America in Ottawa because of a lengthy illness, he debuted the Haiku “King” at artspace on October 6, 2009, in downtown Shreveport. The performance was recorded by Tama Ripps Nathan and can be seen on Youtube. Go to Google.com and type in: youtube haiku elvis.

Nadine Charity, a member of the North Louisiana Haiku Society, won the 2009 Shreveport Regional Arts Council Literature Fellowship. She was awarded $2500.00 and used the money to help finance a trip to Tanzania, where she climbed Mt. Kilimanjaro. In addition, Nadine, Carlos, Jim Kacian, and David Lanoue were included in Maple Leaf Rag IV, which celebrates writers who have participated in the Maple Leaf Bar Reading Series in New Orleans.

South Region

The South Region Fall Conference took place November 6 & 7, 2009. Although small, our days were packed. The Honorable Vic Fleming reviewed a work in progress, “Hisajo in the Light of English Haiku Movement,” by Eiko Yamamoto; Dr. Susan Delphine Delaney made presentations on “liminality in the haiku movement” and “visceral sensation,” and presided over the Haiku Friends Gift Exchange. Dr. Johnye Strickland led us into the past, and helped us edit our finds with expertise and good humor.

All this, plus Lunch at Fuji on Friday, followed by lunch and a ginko walk in Garvin Gardens on Saturday, graciously gifted by the South Regional Haiku Society, presided over by Rev. Howard Lee Kilby. And, of course, singing and crosswords, and—but all this is best said by the conference attendees. From a workshop, here is a poem by Judy Michaels:

autumn butterfly on late blooms
soft falling waters
ah, but the camaraderie

JQ Zhang has written that he is returning from China. He keeps us updated on events in Mississippi. And Gung Hay Fat Choy! Welcome the year of the Tiger in February.

—Celia Stuart-Powles & Howard Kilby

New Orleans

Now entering its ninth year, the New Orleans Haiku Society continues to meet every third Monday at the Latter Library on St. Charles Avenue. One recent activity was our Haiku Labyrinth Walk in Audubon Park, last October 18th. The Labyrinth was constructed by local yoga master Laura Ates, who invited us to be the very first people to try it out. It was a wonderful experience of walking meditation with plenty of haiku scribbled along the way. On November 8th, we manned a table at the New Orleans Japan Fest—a huge success. In addition to supplying written and oral information about the art of haiku, we invited the public to join in an informal renga that we later typed up and mailed or e-mailed to all participants. A free raffle with ten winners receiving copies of my new book, Haiku Wars, was also popular with the masses. Pictures of both of these events can be found on our web site: http://haikuguy.com/nohspics.html.

Also in November, our Society was featured at a Sunday Literary Reading at the Maple Leaf Bar. Yet another exciting recent development is the long-distance addition of four Japanese members to our meetings: Emiko Miyashita, Sakuo Nakamura, Miyazaki Kazuyoshi, and Shibazaki Koubushin. Though they can’t be with us in person, they are members in spirit. Each month they submit their English-language haiku for our meetings via e-mail; we share them and discuss them; then we send our Japanese members a digest of what was said. Sakuo is such a devoted international member, he takes pains to write haiku at the exact time of our haiku walks: he did so for the October Labyrinth walk, finding inspiration from online maps and pictures of Audubon Park. In addition to our four new Japanese members, a young local poet, Nicholas Solas, joined our ranks last fall.

—David Lanoue
Southeast Region

Members and friends of the Southeast Region are invited to submit to meisterp@uah.edu material they would like to contribute to our “members’ anthology” (http://www.uah.edu/colleges/liberal/fll/german/haiku_HSA_southeast.html). If we get to know each other this way, a weekend gathering may become more doable. Any member wishing to suggest a concrete date and place for such a weekend should send me the suggestion and I’ll forward it to our membership.

—Peter Meister

Midwest Region

The Midwest Region is a hotbed of haiku activity. Since last fall through early 2010, many activities have been reported throughout the region. In Illinois, we finished 2009 with our annual Christmas party in metropolitan Chicago at the Vernon Hills home of Lidia Rozmus, poet and artist. In attendance were Natalia and Igor Rudychev, Michael and Beth Nickels-Wisdom, Heather Jagman and Arek, Chris Patchel, and Lee Gurga. Among haiku read by members was one by Heather:

winter commute
as the train leaves the tunnel

In Southern Illinois on Oct. 4, a tribute to the late Paul O. Williams was held (see details included below in the news from the Mississippi Mud Daubers Haiku Group). In other Illinois news, Charlotte Digregorio of Winnetka reports that she was a winner in the “Poetry That Moves” contest for Illinois poets. Her haiku sequence was displayed the entire month of January on buses running along Chicago’s North Shore. Further, Charlotte recently gave a poetry reading at Lake Bluff Public Library in Lake Bluff, IL.

As for news from Iowa, Francine Banworth reports that Haiku Dubuque meets weekly from autumn through spring. Looking back on 2009, she says the highlight of the past year was being able to connect and workshop with the Mineral Point, WI group hosted by Gayle Bull at The Foundry Books. The two groups are collaborating to host the HSA 2010 third quarterly meeting in Mineral Point Sept. 10-12. More details to follow soon.

In addition, Francine says that last December, Haiku Dubuque held a winter solstice haiku reading, “Under the Stars,” at River Lights Bookstore 2E. Poets participating were: Jayne Miller, Cynthia Cechota, David McKee, Bill Pauly, Gail Chavenelle, and Francine. Seven audience members registered to participate in subsequent haiku workshops. The first session was held at River Lights in late January. Contact Bill Pauly by e-mail for more information about the upcoming sessions at billpauly@mchsi.com.

News from Wisconsin comes from Gayle Bull in Mineral Point. With the assistance of Haiku Dubuque and Jerome Cushman of the Rochester New York Haiku Group, haiku poets from Southern Wisconsin have been meeting since March 2009, having formed the group to study and write haiku. The group meets monthly at The Foundry Books, 105 Commerce St., Mineral Point. The next meeting is Sunday, Feb. 28, 2 to 4 p.m. For more information about joining this group, contact Gayle by e-mail at info@foundrybooks.com or by phone at 608-987-4363.

From Indiana comes news from Elinor Huggett in South Bend. Elinor has formed a haiku group which has been meeting at Centre Township Library in South Bend. Beginning in March, it will meet for 10 weeks at Forever Learning Institute. Contact Elinor by e-mail for more information at e.pihlhug@hotmail.com.

For all Midwest members, there was a meeting on Feb. 20, 2010 in metropolitan Chicago at the Winnetka Public Library in Winnetka. The meeting featured haiku readings and critique, along with presentations by six speakers. It was followed by dinner at a local restaurant. The meeting will be reported on in detail in the next newsletter.

Charlotte Digregorio, Midwest Regional Coordinator, has made every effort to contact each member in the Midwest regarding upcoming meetings and general haiku information covering the entire region. She apologizes if any member could not be reached. Those members who have not been receiving e-mails or phone calls from her, should contact Charlotte at 847-881-2664 or by e-mail at cypress@yahoo.com.

In addition, Charlotte encourages members who can’t attend meetings in metro Chicago to start local groups in their area. For ideas on how to form a group and how to contact members in your area, contact Charlotte. Members who have started new groups and are seeking more members within reasonable driving distance should contact Charlotte so that news about their groups can be e-mailed to members and listed in the newsletter.

Mississippi Mud Daubers

Mississippi Mud Daubers Haiku Group members Gretchen Graft Batz and Nancy Wiley, along with Principia College Professor Colin Campbell, a poet and colleague of the late Paul O. Williams, hosted a tribute to Paul in Elsah, Illinois on Sunday, Oct. 4, 2009. The event was sponsored by the Historic Elsah Foundation, an organization that Paul co-founded.

Randy Brooks, Mayfly editor, drove from Decatur to be one of the featured speakers. Norman Anderson, Paul’s former Principia College professor and later colleague, flew in from Seattle to share his remembrances and read one of Paul’s poems.

Other friends, colleagues, and former students also spoke. Several of them read poems that Paul had published or shared with them over the years. Speakers recalled Paul’s other activities such as volunteer firefighting, gardening, photography, bee-keeping, archaeology and stone-polishing.
Mineral Point, Wisconsin Haiku Group forms

With the assistance of Haiku Dubuque and Jerome Cushman of the Rochester, New York Haiku Group, Haiku Poets from Southern Wisconsin in March 2009 formed a new group devoted to the study and writing of English language haiku. We meet monthly at The Foundry Books, 105 Commerce Street in Mineral Point. Our next meeting will be Feb. 28, 2010 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Anyone interested in joining this new group is encouraged to attend. For more information, contact Gayle Bull at info@foundrybooks.com or phone 608-987-4363.

Seabeck Haiku Getaway

Since our last update, Haiku Northwest held its second annual Seabeck Haiku Getaway October 16–18, 2009, to great success, with more than thirty people in attendance. Despite wet weather to start, we knew the stunning rainbows had to mean something. Indeed, many factors combined to make the weekend truly memorable, including contributions from everyone in attendance, especially Penny Harter as our main guest speaker. On her blog, Penny herself called it “among the most enjoyable haiku events I’ve attended.”

You can see a complete schedule of our retreat activities at http://sites.google.com/site/haikunorthwest/seabeck-haiku-getaway/2009schedule. We enjoyed presentations by Penny (a reading, a haibun workshop, and a “space” haiku writing workshop), Christopher Herold (morning meditation, an in-the-moment group writing exercise, and a tan-renga writing session), Karma Tenzing Wangchuk (helping with the tan-renga session, as did Penny), Margaret D. McGee (introducing her new book, Haiku: The Sacred Art), Ce Rosenow (reading haiku from her new book Pacific, plus a discussion on the HSA’s future), Michael Dylan Welch (“Learning from Shugyo Takaha” and serving as MC for the weekend), Deborah Kolodji (on Southern California season words), and Richard Tice (on how Bashō wrote renga).

We also had slide shows by Carole MacRury and Michael Dylan Welch, music by Dejah Leger and her husband Devon, a dance by Genie Nakano, a haiku show-and-tell session led by Tanya McDonald, “Favorite Haiku” presentations, late-night anonymous haiku workshops, ginko walks, a kukai (won by Angela Terry, with Carole MacRury and Michael Dylan Welch in second and third place), a group photo (see above), book displays, a silent auction, the exchange of haiku sheets, wonderful handmade name tags, and more.

See how rich the weekend was? The weekend began with Michael Dylan Welch playing the Judy Collins recording of “Bread and Roses,” and the weekend’s theme was that “hearts starve as well as bodies—give us bread but give us roses.” The weekend concluded with the playing of the song again, and the group’s spontaneous joining of hands. It was indeed a magical weekend of haiku camaraderie. We were privileged to have attendees from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, and California, in addition to Penny visiting from New Jersey.

How many haiku groups can say they have a member who’s a hundred years old? Haiku Northwest can! Helen has been an active member at Haiku Northwest meetings for several years, and was our featured reader in May of 2008. In 2009, she also won a Merit Book Award for her first haiku book, Distant Sounds. And on November 22, Helen turned 100! She celebrated with a party for friends and extended family in Issaquah, Washington on November 21. In attendance were haiku poets Connie Hutchinson, Curtis Manley, Tanya McDonald, Stephen Peters, Ann Spiers, Michael Dylan Welch, and others. Just think about it—Helen was born just a few years after Shiki died, and almost sixty years before the formation of the Haiku Society of America. Hurray to Helen on her 100th birthday!

Monthly Meetings
Haiku Northwest, of course, has continued to hold its well-attended monthly meetings. For our October 1, 2009 meeting at the Bellevue Regional Library, John Burgess was our guest featured reader. We also held meetings on November 5, at the library, and on December 3, at the home of Tanya McDonald in Bellevue—a holiday potluck meeting. For 2010, we’ll be having our meetings on the second Thursday of the month (instead of the first Thursday), and on January 14, for our first meeting of 2010, our featured reader was David Ash. Our February 11 featured reader was Richard Tice. The Port Townsend and Bellingham haiku groups continue to hold monthly haiku meetings, too, and all three of our groups plan to hold a joint meeting together in the spring.

Other News
Congratulations to Tanya McDonald for becoming the new Haiku Northwest coordinator, taking over from Michael Dylan Welch, who returns to the position of HSA first vice president. And congratulations to Angela Terry for becoming HSA secretary, taking over from fellow Haiku Northwest member Dave Baldwin. In other news, Michael Dylan Welch gave a haiku workshop in Bellingham, Washington, on Wednesday, January 27 (an article about the new Bellingham Haiku Group and this workshop appeared in the Bellingham Herald—see www.bellinghamherald.com/689/story/1253790.html). Michael was also recently awarded a fellowship in Seattle’s Jack Straw Writing Program for a proposal focusing on haiku poetry. A newspaper story about the Port Townsend haiku group and Margaret McGee’s new book also recently appeared in the Peninsula Daily News (see www.peninsuladailynews.com/article/20100106/NEWS/30109988).

And finally, Haiku Northwest has updated its web site (http://sites.google.com/site/haikunorthwest/Home) to list 2010 events, which include hosting a national quarterly meeting of the Haiku Society of America, June 25 to 27. As always, if you’ll be visiting our area and would like to attend any of our meetings, please let us know!

—Michael Dylan Welch

Oregon
Ce’s new book, Pacific, has just been published by Mountain Gate Press in Hillsboro, Oregon. All of the haiku in her book are about the Pacific Northwest coast. The book is 72 pages, perfect bound, and can be ordered for $14 from: Ce Rosenow, 815 E. 28th Avenue, Eugene, OR 97405. Ce is also teaching a four-week haiku seminar, “The Fine Art of Haiku,” in January for the University of Oregon’s Insight Seminar series. Her article, “Written in the Face of Adversity: The Senryu Tradition in America,” appeared in the journal Literary Imagination published by Oxford University Press.

The Eugene haiku group continues to meet at Harriot West’s house once a month.

We are proud to announce that Barbara Snow of Eugene, Oregon has placed with two Honorable Mentions in the Winter Moon Awards for Haiku 2009. Plus, her haiku from the annual Shiki Kukai has been voted for publication in where the wind turns: The Red Moon Anthology of English-Language Haiku 2009.

an’ya’s Third Place haiku in the Winter Moon Awards for Haiku 2008, has been voted into where the wind turns: The Red Moon Anthology of English-Language Haiku 2009. an’ya also has more haiku books scheduled for publication in 2010 by Rosenberry Books.

On January 3rd, a party was held in Eugene at the home of Laura Le Hew honoring the authors of “Uttered Chaos” latest release, “The Quizzical Chair,” an anthology of poems by twelve fine Oregon poets: Karen Clausel, Diane Conrad, Victoria A. Harkovich, Colette Jonopulos, Susan Kenyon, Laura Le-Hew, Catherine McGuire, Nancy Carol Moody, Sharon Lask Munson, Eileen Dawson Peterson, Judy G. Richardson, and Janice D. Rubin.

Johnny Baranski of Portland, Oregon will be the “Guest Judge” for the “Baseball Haiku” section of the Spring/Summer 2010 issue of moonset. and his baseball haibun “Gandhi’s Game” has been voted into where the wind turns: The Red Moon Press Anthology of English-Language Haiku 2009.

Thomas Martin of Portland will also have a haiku that has been voted into where the wind turns: The Red Moon Anthology of English-Language Haiku 2009, and he has a haiku selected for the 2nd Basho Challenge chapbook.

Margaret Chula’s essay in Modern Haiku, “Behind Barbed Wire: Haiku from the Internment Camps,” has been voted into where the wind turns: The Red Moon Anthology of English Language Haiku 2009. Her haibun “Polishing the Spoons” was nominated by the editors of Modern Haiku for a 2009 Pushcart Prize. In November Maggie gave a haibun workshop for the Southern California Haiku Study Group at the Pacific Asia Museum in Pasadena.

There is also a new workshop haiku group in Central Oregon which will assemble (weather permitting) for the first time some day this winter in the Bend area at author and haiku/tanka poet Nadine Harmon’s house.

Frances Jones of Bend, Oregon had her first published haiku in the December 2009 online at The Heron’s Nest. Congratulations Frances.

The Spring 2010 Oregon HSA Regional Meeting is scheduled for May 15, 2010 at the Tired Dog Ranch (owned by haiku poets Amy Jo Maurer and Sally Harmon), nestled on 18 acres in the exclusive little community of Westfir, Oregon.

Central Valley Haiku Club

August Meeting

On August 22, 2009, the Central Valley Haiku Club held their end-of-summer meeting at the Antelope branch of the library. In attendance were Margot Best, Bill Owen, Yvonne Cabalona, Mark Hollingsworth, Amy Whitcomb, Ricardo DeBernardi, and Leslie Rose.

Under old business Yvonne reported that she was still waiting for the flood of entries that usually precedes the close of our annual Jerry Kilbride Haibun contest. She also reported that everything was set for our annual Haiku reading at the Gekkeikan Sake Factory in Folsom on October 17th. At Yvonne’s suggestion, we decided that our audience might enjoy hearing the “story behind” our writings, the history of how we came to write some of our favorite poems. Finally Yvonne reported that copies of our recently completed chapbook, “Among Wildflowers” were being sent to judges Michael Dyaln Welch and Garry Gay as thanks for giving so generously of their time and talent.

Mark gave us a quick update on the chapbook, which he is revising one last time before it goes onto the web site.

We briefly discussed the upcoming anniversary chapbook which will contain the works of charter, former, and present members as well as the Haibun Contest winners for 2009. It was agreed that the book will contain “something old,” poems from our previously published chapbooks, and “something new,” unpublished poems by our present members, with a total of 10-12 poems being accepted from each person.

Yvonne will be our editor for this project and by our December meeting members will need to send their new poems to her so she can connect these works to previously published poems.

Amy updated us on her status. She will be living in Massachusetts thus becoming a member “in absentia”. All of us will miss her presence as her talent and energies inspire all of us. But we’re glad that we will not be losing her permanently.

Under bragging rights, Bill announced that he will have work appearing in the upcoming HSA Anthology, as well as two poems that will be published in Frogpond. Yvonne told us to look for her poem which will be published in the next issue of Bottle Rockets.

With business taken care of, the members shared some recent poetry: day’s end the gardener wrings out his neckerchief

October Meeting

The October meeting of the CVHSC was held on Saturday, Oct. 17th, at the Gekkeikan Sake Factory in Folsom, California. With the factory’s koi pond as backdrop, group members, Yvonne Cabalona, Mark Hollingsworth, Leslie Rose, and w.f. owen read to a well-filled room, while member Ricardo DeBernardi shot photos to document the event. As planned, each reader, with laughter and enthusiasm, gave a bit of insight into their process of writing and provided a few “footnotes” on each of the forms that were shared. At the reading’s end, several audience members were enticed to share a bit of their poetry with the room as well.

After the audience had dispersed, a brief business meeting was held to update members and make decisions about ongoing projects.

Yvonne reported that by the deadline for our annual haibun contest, on Oct. 1, she had received a nice collection of entries. Those haibun have been forwarded on to our judges and we are hoping that by our December meeting they will have chosen our winners.
Before closing the meeting and retiring to the sake tasting room, the date for our last meeting of the year was chosen: Saturday, Dec. 19 at 12:00 noon, at the Eastern Empire Restaurant on Howe Avenue in Sacramento, when we will celebrate the season and another year of wonderful writings shared.

Haiku Poets of Northern California

October 2009 Meeting

The Haiku Poets of Northern California’s last quarterly meeting for 2009 was held on Oct. 25 at Fort Mason in San Francisco. The meeting was opened by president, Garry Gay. Present were the following people: Fay Aoyagi, Susan Antolin, Jerry Ball, Peg McAulay Byrd, Tom Drescher, Gary Gach, Patrick Gallagher, Garry Gay, Carolyn Hall, Renée Owen, Linda Papanicolaou, Michael Sheffield, Laurie and Eric Stoitling, Ebba Story, and Alison Woolpert. The meeting began with a round of poems.

Remembering Claire Gallagher

The first portion of the meeting was devoted to remembering Claire Gallagher, a dear and longtime HPNC member who passed away on July 17, 2009. Claire was an accomplished haiku poet and took an active role in several haiku organizations, including the Yuki Teikei Haiku Society and the Haiku Society of America in addition to HPNC. She was co-editor of Mariposa from 1999 to 2007 and was instrumental in shaping the journal into the well-respected periodical it is today. Her poems have won numerous prestigious awards in the U.S. and abroad. One of Claire’s poems:

weathered bench—
I open my palms

to the winter sky

More than these accomplishments, though, she touched many of us in the group with her creative and authentic spirit. Carolyn Hall read aloud a statement written by her husband, Patrick, in which he noted that all of us who loved Claire “have become her continued existence, and each of us has the power to carry her life on into the future within us, and through our lives as we choose to live them.” Each of us read aloud three of Claire’s poems, and through her words we appreciated her voice again. Those who had written poems in her memory read those, and several people also shared memories of Claire. A tribute to Claire, including poems written in her memory, are posted on the HPNC web site: www.hpnc.org/. A memorial note written by Ebba Story appeared in the September 2009 issue of the HSA Newsletter.

Reading by Susan Antolin

Our featured reader, Susan Antolin, read from her new book of haiku and tanka, Artichoke Season. Susan dedicated her reading to Claire and selected only poems that were uplifting or funny for her reading. She also read two haibun and noted that she is challenging herself to write one haibun per week on her web site: www.artichokeseason.wordpress.com/.

Workshop by Patrick Gallagher

After a few minutes of announcements and two more rounds of poems, Patrick Gallagher gave a talk on the use of cinematic language as a tool for discussing and analyzing haiku. Patrick based his presentation on an article by the haiku poet and essayist, Allan Burns, who proposed that, “the language of cinema gives us a fresh and revealing way to talk about what happens in a haiku” (Frogpond XXX:3 Fall 2007). Patrick opened by reading a quote by Susan Sontag from her 1977 essay “On Photography.” Patrick proposed that much of what Sontag said of photography is applicable to haiku. Patrick gave us a handout with a list of cinematic vocabulary and then went through the list discussing how each term might apply to haiku and providing examples to illustrate each one. He then asked us to write a few haiku using any of the cinematic techniques on the list. After we had each written some attempts, several haiku were shared, and a lively discussion followed as we tried to place the haiku into the proper category of cinematic technique. The exercise proved the usefulness of cinematic language as an additional tool to use in analyzing and writing haiku.

January 2010 Meeting

HPNC’s first quarterly meeting of 2010 was held on January 17 at Fort Mason in San Francisco with the following people present: Susan Antolin, Jerry Ball, George Baker, Robin Beshers, Susan Diridon, Joann Frey, Patrick Gallagher, Linda Galloway, Garry Gay, Nardin Gottfried, Johnnie Johnson Hafner, Carolyn Hall, Tracy Koretsky, Janis Lukstein, Renée Owen, Jeremy Pendrey, Joseph Robello, and John Thompson. The meeting was called to order by President Garry Gay at 1:30 pert. The meeting began with a round of introductions and poems. Garry then announced he would be stepping down as president. A new slate of officers was proposed and voted on, with the following positions approved: David Grayson, President; Susan Antolin, Vice President; Carolyn Hall, Membership Secretary; Paul Miller, Treasurer. The Newsletter Editor position was left open. Anyone interested in this position is encouraged to contact any of the current officers. The torch was symbolically passed (with a flashlight) from Garry to David, who led the remainder of the meeting.

John Thompson announced the results of HPNC’s annual haiku, senryu, and tanka contests and asked Jeremy Pendrey and Carolyn Hall to read their winning poems. David then announced the rengay contest results. Renée Owen and John Thompson read aloud their first place winning rengay. (Note: the complete contest results will appear in the spring issue of Mariposa and will also be available on our web site: www.hpnc.org/).

Reading by Linda Papanicolaou

David introduced our featured reader,
Linda Papanicolaou, a middle-school art teacher, art historian, and widely published haiku poet. Linda titled her reading “Linked Works” and presented a variety of work done in linked forms, including beautiful linked haiga sequences done in collaboration with other poets and artists. Linda shared an incredible array of computer-manipulated images and spoke about the process of linking one image to another and collaborating with another poet/artist in creating graphic renga. Graphic renga, a collaborative process in which an image is passed around between participants, each of whom alters the image in some way before passing it on, was invented in 1992 by Toshihiro Anzai and Rieko Nakamura. Linda also shared work she has done using Comic Life, a graphic interface available on Mac computers that gives the finished product a comic book appearance and allows a more nuanced interaction between the image and the text.

Report on Haiku Pacific Rim

Linda Galloway gave a brief presentation about her experiences attending the Fourth Haiku Pacific Rim conference, Wind Over Water, in Australia in September 2009, as well as the Sixth International Tanka Festival in Japan in October. Linda handed out a list of presentations from the Haiku Pacific Rim conference and shared some of the most memorable parts of her trip. If you would like a detailed account of her travels or more information on the diverse presentations at the conference, please contact her by e-mail at xewe@att.net.

Kukai

For the remainder of the meeting Carolyn Hall and Jerry Ball led the group in a kukai. Everyone was invited to submit a poem for discussion. The poems were then read aloud several times each, and everyone was allowed five votes in selecting our top five poems (voted on by a show of hands). Carolyn and Jerry tallied the votes and then led a constructive discussion of each poem submitted. Jerry pointed out that the kukai serves not as a contest in the traditional sense, but rather as a measure of how people react to your work. As the discussion of poems progressed, various substitutions for particular words or phrases were suggested, as were changes in the order of lines. In evaluating whether a poem was a successful haiku, Jerry offered a basic definition from the Museum of Haiku Literature in Japan: “a haiku is a three line poem in which one of the lines is a surprise.” Jerry encouraged us to include a surprise in our poems. Carolyn echoed Jerry’s sentiment when she commented that a good haiku needs to leave room for the reader to have something to discover.

Yuki Teikei Haiku Society

Each year the Society holds a long-weekend retreat at Asilomar Seashore on the Monterey Peninsula, a beautiful natural setting on the Pacific Ocean. The 2009 retreat was Thursday, October 1 through Sunday, October 4. The retreat featured presentations by Ebba Story, a longtime haiku writer, editor of the “Challenge Kigo” column in our newsletter GEPPO, and coeditor of Mariposa. Ebba led participants in a writing workshop and a craft lecture on the theme of “Re-membering Feelings through Haiku”. The annual traditions of a workshop combining art and haiku, a kukai, and renku writing were observed. The 2010 retreat will be September 16-19.

A feature of the retreat was an afternoon celebrating the publication of Autumn Loneliness: The Letters of Kiyoshi and Kiyoko Tokutomi, July-December, 1967”, translated by Tei Scott Matsu-shita and Patricia J. Machmiller. The Tokutomis were the founders of the Yuki Teikei Haiku Society. Relatives of the Tokutomis and members of the book’s production team attended the celebration.

In November, Patrick Gallagher hosted our monthly meeting at his home. Patrick presented a program on Tradition in Japanese Haiku, emphasizing the tradition of evolving haiku. “The Haiku Universe for the 21st Century” by the Modern Haiku Association (Gendai Haiku Kyokai) was discussed, and the attendees spent some time writing “gendai” haiku. They found it not to be an easy task.

Our annual holiday party in December was held at the home of Alison Woolpert in Santa Cruz. About thirty poets, artists, and guests attended. They enjoyed a potluck dinner and socializing, and participated in our traditional sharing of haiku holiday cards.

Our January monthly meeting was held at the Markham House, the former home of Edwin Markham, a notable of the early 20th century. Roger Abe presented a program that featured poems describing five stages of plum blossom development, and attendees wrote related haiku.

Southern California Haiku Study Group

Toward the latter part of 2009, members of the Southern California Haiku Study Group (SCHSG) reached new and separate horizons. Some new horizons were found in other countries, some were found right at home. Debbie Kolodji and Naia had a first-time eventful trip to Ottawa, Canada, for the Haiku North America conference in September. In between ginko walks, bagpipes, restaurant reviews, the poets presented their haiku with aplomb before a distinguished audience.

Members Kathabela and Rick Wilson (moderators of Poets on Site) were ending their journey through Europe. The last city was Prague, where they celebrated their 8th anniversary. Congrats to the Walters!

Those who stayed in Southern California had many places to visit. Unfortunately, we witnessed a disaster. We have all felt the despair and loss from the horrific wildfires that devastated parts of our beautiful countryside. SCHSG meets the third Saturday each month at the Pacific Asia Museum in Pasadena. This summer we had two special events. On August 22, “Poets on Site” came to read their poems that they had recorded for the museum Audio Tour. This audio tour is now available for visitors to listen to as they walk through the gardens and galleries at the museum.

On Sunday, August 30, SCHSG launched their 2009 anthology “Shell Gathering,” at the Pacific Asia Museum. Poets whose work was published attended the meeting and read their haiku and haibun. Then, the museum provided an excellent buffet that we all enjoyed. Also, the camaraderie was rampant and delightful. A good time was had by all!

We had a delightful end to the year 2009 with holiday festivities at Wendy and Tom Wright’s lovely home in Naples. About twenty members attended, each with their year-end haiku and haiga. Margaret Hehman-Smith’s artwork was displayed. Wendy Wright purchased a painting called “Snow.”

Following are poems from the 2009 anthology “Shell Gathering.”

The following contest announcements are arranged in order of deadlines.

The Nicholas A. Virgilio Memorial Haiku Competition for Grades 7-12

Founded by the Sacred Heart Church in Camden, NJ, and sponsored by the Nick Virgilio Haiku Association in memory of Nicholas A. Virgilio, a charter member of the Haiku Society of America, who died in 1989. The Haiku Society of America co-sponsors the contest, provides judges, and publishes the results in Frogpond and on the HSA web site.

Deadline: In hand by March 25, 2010. Entries received after that date will not be accepted.

Eligibility: Any student in grades 7 through 12 enrolled in school as of September 2008 may enter.

Regulations: Submit up to three haiku per student. All haiku must be previously unpublished, original work, and not entered in any other contest or submitted elsewhere for publication. Please follow the guidelines carefully. Publication is defined as an appearance in a printed book, magazine, or journal (sold or given away), or in any online journal that presents edited periodic content. The appearance of poems in online discussion lists or personal web sites is not considered publication. Failure to follow this format makes it impossible to judge an entry and could result in disqualification without notification.

Submissions: Each haiku must be on three separate 3" x 5" cards. The haiku must appear on the front of each card; your name, address, age, grade level, and school (please include the school address) must appear on the back of (only) one of the cards for each haiku. Please do not send self-addressed stamped envelope with your entries. All winners will be notified. Winning haiku and commentaries will appear in Frogpond. Do not use staples for any purpose. Failure to follow this format will make it impossible to judge an entry and may result in the disqualification of a submission without notification.

Entry fee: None.

Submit entries to:
Tony Virgilio
Nick Virgilio Haiku Association
1092 Niagara Rd.
Camden, NJ 08104-2859

Adjudication: Judges named by the HSA.

Awards: Six haiku will be selected and each awarded $50. The winning haiku and list of winners will be published in Frogpond and on the HSA web site. The high school of each student winner will receive a one-year subscription to Frogpond.

Rights: All rights revert to the authors after publication.

Correspondence: Please keep a copy of your haiku; entries cannot be returned.

The HSA Bernard Lionel Einbond Renku Competition (for renku of 36, 20, or 12 stanzas)

Founded by the Sacred Heart Church in Camden, NJ, and sponsored by the Nick Virgilio Haiku Association in memory of Nicholas A. Virgilio, a charter member of the Haiku Society of America, who died in 1989. The Haiku Society of America co-sponsors the contest, provides judges, and publishes the results in Frogpond and on the HSA web site.

Deadline: In hand by April 30, 2010.

Eligibility: The contest is open to the public. HSA officers who are members of the executive committee are not eligible, but regional coordinators may enter. No entries will be accepted that include work by any of the judges.

Regulations: For the purpose of this contest, a renku may consist of 36, 20, or 12 stanzas (kasan, nijûin, junicho, or shisan forms) written by two or more persons, each of whom contributes a substantial number of individually authored stanzas. Any particular author may appear in no more than three different renku entered. Entries must be in English. Entries must not have been previously published, nor contain any stanzas previously published, submitted for publication, nor entered in any other contest. Publication is defined as an appearance in a printed book, magazine, or journal (sold or given away), or in any online journal that presents edited periodic content. The appearance of poems in online discussion lists or personal web sites is not considered publication. Judges will be asked to disqualify any link that they have seen before.

Submissions: One copy, with full authorship information, stanza by stanza, must give the full name and address of all authors, and indicate the coordinator (to whom any correspondence will be addressed). This ‘identified’ manuscript must be signed by all authors or other definite confirmations such as hard copies of e-mail confirmations of permission from each author should be included with the entry. Three additional copies, without authors’ names but marked with numbers or letters to show the sequence of authorship, must accompany the identified manuscript. Failure to follow this format makes it impossible to judge an entry and could result in disqualification without notification.

Entry fee: $10 must accompany manuscript. Please make checks/money orders payable in U.S. funds to “Haiku Society of America.”

Submit entries and fees to:
Einbond Renku Contest
c/o Francine Barnwarth
985 So. Grandview
Dubuque, IA 52003 USA

Adjudication: The names of the judge(s) will be announced with the winners.

Awards: Grand Prize: Up to $150 and publication in Frogpond and on the HSA web site. All rights revert to authors on publication. Amount of Grand Prize and additional prizes may vary, depending on the quality and number of entries. If no renku is deemed by the judges to be worthy of the Grand Prize, renku awarded lesser prizes may or may not be published in Frogpond and on the HSA web site.

Correspondence: Sorry, entries cannot be returned. Please send an SASE (#10 envelope only) for a list of winning entries. Please note the need for sufficient postage. One envelope per contest.

Harold G. Henderson

Awards for Best Unpublished Haiku

These awards were originally made possible by Mrs. Harold G. Henderson in memory of Harold G. Henderson, cofounder of the Haiku Society of America.

Deadline: In hand by August 31, 2010. Entries received after that date will not be accepted.

Eligibility: The contest is open to the public. HSA officers who are members of the executive committee are not eligible, but regional coordinators may enter.

Regulations: Up to 10 unpublished haiku, not submitted for publication or to any other contest. Publication is defined as an appearance in a printed book, magazine, or journal (sold or given away), or in any online journal that presents edited periodic content. The appearance of poems in online discussion lists or personal web sites is not considered publication. Judges will be asked to disqualify any haiku that they have seen before.

Submissions: Submit each haiku on three separate 3” x 5” cards, two with the haiku only (for anonymous judging), the third with the haiku and the author’s name, address, phone number and/or e-mail address in the upper left-hand corner. Please designate as “haiku.” Haiku not submitted on 3” x 5” cards will not be accepted. Please type or write each haiku legibly in ink. Failure to follow this format may result in disqualification without notice.

Entry fee: $1 per haiku for HSA members, $2 per haiku for non-members, U.S. funds only. Please make checks/money orders payable to “Haiku Society of America.”

The Annual Gerald Brady Memorial
Awards for Best Unpublished Senryu

The Gerald Brady Memorial awards were first made possible with a donation by Virginia Brady Young in memory of her brother, Gerald Brady.

Deadline: In hand by August 31, 2010. Entries received after that date will not be accepted.

Eligibility: The contest is open to the public. HSA officers who are members of the executive committee are not eligible, but regional coordinators may enter.

Regulations: Up to 10 unpublished senryu, not submitted for publication or to any other contest. Publication is defined as an appearance in a printed book, magazine, or journal (sold or given away), or in any online journal that presents edited periodic content. The appearance of poems in online discussion lists or personal web sites is not considered publication. Judges will be asked to disqualify any senryu that they have seen before.

Submissions: Submit each senryu on three separate 3” x 5” cards, two with the senryu only (for anonymous judging), the third with the haiku and the author’s name, address, phone number and/or e-mail address in the upper left-hand corner. Please designate as “senryu.” Senryu not submitted on 3” x 5” cards will not be accepted. Please type or write each senryu legibly in ink. Failure to follow this format may result in disqualification without notice.

Entry fee: $1 per senryu for HSA members, $2 per senryu for non-members, U.S. funds only. Please make checks/money orders payable to “Haiku Society of America.”

The Robert Spiess Memorial Haiku Awards

As a memorial to Editor Bob Spiess, who died on March 13, 2002, Modern Haiku sponsors The Robert Spiess Memorial Award Haiku Competition.

Deadline: In hand March 13, 2010.

Rules: The competition is open to everyone but the staff of Modern Haiku, the competition coordinator, and the judges. Entries must be in English. Each entry must be the original, unpublished work of the author, and should not be under consideration in a contest or for publication elsewhere. For purposes of this competition, appearance of a haiku in an Internet journal, a web site, or a blog is considered publication, but posting haiku on a private e-mail list is not. Of course, entries should not be shared in an Internet journal, web site, blog, or haiku list during the term of the competition.

Submission guidelines: Poets may submit a maximum of five haiku written in the spirit of the following “Speculation” written by Spiess: Many haiku of quality combine unexpectedness with inevitability—that “shock of mild surprise” (Blyth), followed immediately by the felt-significance of “Of course, that’s just as it is.” Entries should be typed or printed legibly. Submit three copies of each haiku on plain white 3” x 5” cards or paper. The haiku (one haiku per card) should appear on the face of each card. The poet’s name, mailing address, telephone number, and e-mail address (if any) should appear on one of the three cards, in the upper left-hand corner above the haiku; the other two copies should contain only the haiku. Please keep a copy of your submission; entries will not be returned. Please follow the instructions carefully: entries that are incomplete or that do not comply with the instructions will be discarded.

Entry fee: $1 per haiku, cash or check (U.S. funds); make checks payable to Modern Haiku.

Send submissions to:

Billie Wilson
1170 Fritz Cove Road
Juneau, AK 99801-8501 USA

Adjudication: Two judges will be selected by Modern Haiku; their names will be announced at the time of the awards. Judging will be double-blind, and the judges will not know the identity of the entrants. Judges’ decisions are final.

Selection criteria: The judges will look for entries that hew to Western norms for haiku as published in Modern Haiku and other leading English-language haiku journals and that best capture the spirit of the theme “Speculation” above. There are no rules as to syllable or line count.

Awards: First Prize: $100 plus a previously-loved copy of The Heron’s Legs (1966, out of print; copy #328 of 335). Second Prize: $50 plus a copy of Bob’s The Shape of Water (1982); Third Prize: $25 plus a copy of Bob’s Some Sticks and Pebbles (2001). Up to five poets will be awarded Honorable Mentions and each will receive a copy of Bob’s A Year’s Speculations on Haiku (1995).

Notification: Winners will be notified by e-mail or phone before the general announcement. Winning entries will be published in the summer 2010 issue of Modern Haiku and posted on the Modern Haiku web site, www.modernhaiku.org, or before July 1, 2010. If you would like a list of the winners, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope (SASE) with your entries. Overseas entrants should provide one IRC or one U.S. dollar in cash with a self-addressed envelope. These will be mailed when the summer issue of Modern Haiku is released.

Rights: All rights revert back to the authors after June 2010, when winners will be announced.

The HSA leadership has been busy already in 2010

Recent HSA activity

1. We have scheduled our four quarterly meetings for the year (February 19-21 in Pasadena, California; June 25-27 in Seattle, Washington; September 10-12 in Mineral Point, Wisconsin, and December 4 in Boston, Massachusetts).
2. A new page on the HSA site has been developed that shows photos, bios, and sample haiku/haibun by each HSA executive committee member (to help all our members put faces to names—please contact EC members if you have a question or concern).
3. Our web site has been updated with a new clickable map of the United States showing each of the HSA regions (visit www.hsa-haiku.org/regions/regions.htm). Additional content is still under construction, but includes a brief historical overview of haiku activity in each region, haiku links relative to that region, and a bio, photo, and sample poems for each regional coordinator. As with the EC photos and bios, the intent is to make the HSA more personal, and to make its leaders more accessible and approachable. Regional sites will also contain news items for each region.
4. A document summarizing regional coordinator responsibilities has been developed and approved by regional coordinators and the EC, and posted online.
5. We have made other updates to the site with deadlines for each of our contests, and other changes (see www.hsa-haiku.org/whats-new.htm for what’s new).

Executive committee decisions

The following is a summary of decisions made at our first quarterly meeting in Pasadena, CA on February 20, 2010:

1. We will implement an online membership management system, so anyone can pay their annual dues and update their contact information using a secure online system (more details to be announced).
2. We will implement an online survey of our membership to determine preferences and attitudes on a number of member benefits and other issues (more details to be announced).
3. Contest fees for the Henderson and Brady contests will remain the same for members ($1.00 per poem), but will be raised to $2.00 per poem for nonmembers, effective immediately.
4. We will establish three new volunteer positions/committees (not executive committee positions): publicity/social media coordinator, education coordinator, and a historian (more details to be announced, but if you have any interest in these activities, please contact Ce Rosenow).
5. We reaffirmed the longstanding policy (overlooked for the last two years) that HSA publications, including the annual membership anthology, are NOT eligible for Merit Book Award consideration.
6. We affirmed that, to be eligible for Merit Book Award consideration, books of poetry must be at least 50 percent haiku-related.

Sammamish, WA 98074-6408
welchm@aol.com
Michael Dylan Welch has been an HSA member since 1988, serving for numerous years as first vice president. He cofounded the Haiku North America conference (1991) and the American Haiku Archives (1996), which houses the HSA archives. In 2000, he also founded the Tanka Society of America, and served as president for five years. He has won first place in each of the Henderson, Brady, Drevniok, and Tokutomi contests, and has won Museum of Haiku Literature and Merit Book Awards. His poetry has appeared in hundreds of journals and anthologies in at least fourteen languages. He directs the Seabeck Haiku Getaway for Haiku Northwest, and his personal web site is titled Graceguts. Michael is also a board member of the Washington Poets Association and is a fellow in Seattle’s 2010 Jack Straw Writers Program.

2nd Vice President
Francine Banwarth
985 S. Grandview Avenue
Dubuque, IA 52003
frantic647@yahoo.com
Francine Banwarth is a member of Haiku Dubuque, which meets weekly to study and workshop haiku. Her work has been published in a variety of journals and anthologies since 1989. Her haiku and senryu have won awards in the Henderson, Drev-niok, Weiss, Porad, Frost, Pinewood, Tokutomi, and Kaji Aso contests. In her third year as HSA second vice president, she will help plan the 2010 third quarterly HSA meeting in Mineral Point, Wisconsin. With Randy Brooks, she is also coediting the 2011 Haiku North America conference in Decatur, Illinois. Francine balances haiku practice with work as a freelance proofreader, daily three-mile runs, and time spent with family and friends. Haiku practice is the light through which she sifts her days and the net into which her nights fall.

New HSA History Committee Created: Charles Trumbull Appointed First Chair

At the first 2010 meeting of the HSA Executive Committee, HSA officers voted to create the HSA History Committee. This committee will ensure the continuous, accurate documentation of the HSA’s history by combining archival work with the development of an ongoing narrative representation of the HSA’s efforts on behalf of haiku. As the world’s oldest English-language haiku organization, the HSA’s history is important not only to its membership but to poets and scholars around the world. The History Committee will help make that history available to this wide audience.

Charles Trumbull has been appointed chair of the committee. In addition to possessing important skills as a historian and researcher, Charles has also demonstrated an ongoing commitment to the HSA, a commitment recognized at the first national quarterly meeting of 2009 when he was presented with the Sora Award. He began his tenure as chair by appointing past HSA President, Raffael de Gruttola, as a committee member. Their first project involves compiling a short history of the HSA for the HSA web site and a list of all Executive Committee officers and regional coordinators from the HSA’s beginning to the present.

The History Committee will work with Executive Committee officers to develop additional projects for the future, and I invite members to send suggestions for history-related projects to me and/or to Charles Trumbull.

Newsletter deadlines:
Please submit news for Ripples to Susan Antolin via e-mail at susantolin@gmail.com by the following dates for inclusion in the two remaining newsletters of the year:

June 30th for the July issue

October 30th for the November issue

I would like to thank Michael Dylan Welch for his generous assistance in reshaping the HSA newsletter and for giving it a name. If you have news to contribute to the next issue, please either contact me directly or send it to your regional coordinator (listed on page 23). Meeting the submission deadlines will help ensure your news makes it into the next issue.
